Rwanda Youth: Launch of New Website

Created by street children in Kigali to tell their stories to the world

www.rwandayouth.com

FIDESCO-Rwanda and RDDC are pleased to announce the launch of a brand new website that has been created by street children: www.rwandayouth.com. This website shares the stories of Rwandan children who have been living on the streets without access to shelter, food and education. Through RDDC's ongoing dance program, street kids have shared their stories with our Rwandan staff in hopes that this information will bring awareness and support to their dreams for a future.

RWANDA Photo Exhibit: Tonight
Friday, February 17: Philadelphia at 7:30pm

On Friday, February 17, there will be a special showing of photography and stories about the RDDC program. Philadelphia photographer and former dancer Jano Cohen joined the RDDC team for the month of December in Kigali, Rwanda. Jano photographed the street children participating in our program and contributed the photography that is featured on the Rwandayouth.com website.
