

Mettler Studios presents a Dance Improvisation and Teacher Training Workshop at the
Tucson Creative Dance Center
Tucson, Arizona

Monday – Friday July 11-22, 2011

Taught by Griff Goehring and Mary Ann Brehm

Come for both weeks or just the first week

www.mettlerstudiosworkshop.blogspot.com for more information on the workshop.

The focus of this workshop is on an immersion experience of the art of body movement, building from individual to group dance improvisation. Discussion of Mettler-based principles and specific application to teaching people of all ages including those with special needs will be integrated into the daily schedule. A follow-up program of support for using the material throughout the year is included.

Do not let financial concerns keep you from taking advantage of this dance opportunity! In addition to scholarship aid, we can also provide housing assistance for out of town students and 30 CUEs per week through the Tucson Unified School District. For registration materials or information on scholarships contact Mary Ann Brehm mabdance@aol.com or call 814-670-9214. To receive a scholarship we do ask a commitment to using the work in some way in your professional or personal life after the workshop and reporting back to us.

This workshop is supported by gifts from the Barbara Mettler Trust and Mettler Studios, Inc.
